How do you finance your studies?

The checklist

1. Determine the cost of tuition for your program:

Check the total cost for your study program here.

2. Add living expenses for the duration of your studies:

Calculate your living expenses using our budget tool here.

3. Plan your sources of income during your studies:

Sources of funding	Amount (CAD)	Details
<input type="checkbox"/> Student Financial Assistance from the government	Variable 1 portion on loan & 1 portion on the stock market	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• You can apply for loans and grants each year, as long as you are eligible for the Program.• The government loan rate is the most advantageous on the market and the repayment terms are competitive.
<input type="checkbox"/> HEC Montreal Foundation Scholarship	1000 to 20 000$/year	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Two scholarship competitions are held each year (in the fall and winter semesters).• Attend the information sessions and submit your application when required.
<input type="checkbox"/> Programme de bourses d'organismes subventionnaires	7 500$ 20 000 to 27 000$/year 25 000 to 40 000$/year	(Undergraduate research internship) (Master of Science) (Doctorate)
<input type="checkbox"/> Other scholarships (comme MITACS)	Minimum of 15 000$	MITACS scholarships are intended for professional development. They are therefore scholarships offered during an internship. For masters and doctoral students.
<input type="checkbox"/> Other funding sources (work? RESP? etc)	Variable	Do you plan to work part-time during the school year? During the summer? Is part of your education being funded by your parents or relatives? Will part of your tuition fees be paid from personal savings or a RESP ?
